With special thanks to Cape Cod Photos
for our endsheets

Harwich, Cape Cod, Mass.

This is a book of memories, a backward look at four years of noisy lunches and Shakespeare, basketball games and square roots, from bugles in the morning until the buses at night – all of it captured here in every word and face. Today, as we stand on the threshold of a new life, we are eager, yet uncertain, bold, yet afraid, wishing to turn back, yet determined to go forward. And yet, for a moment, we pause and look back, for

Today we stand on a threshold
That tomorrow we will cross . . .

"He's gone; let's take it easy for a while."

Graduates of finger painting, now apt students of water color.

"Now, night I want you to . . . , and I want you to do it too!"

A S D F space; L K J space . . .

"In and out . . . wait'll you see my weaving!"

"Hey, Mike, how about . . . Mike, Mike!"

"No, Mr. Colbert, I'm not really built like Twiggy!"

"Boy, is he cute!"

You have taught us how to build sturdy ships;

May you continue to restrain your builders
from dangers,

Yet never restrict them from the expression

In Appreciation

Adelyn J. Peabody, R.N.
School nurse 1938-1968

A dedicated nurse for thirty years in the Harwich School System, Miss Peabody had a smile that touched us all. We shall remember her always, for she left with us the spark of her inspiration.

Class of 1968

"Who criticizes women?"

"Now, this is for the Super Hero Badge!"

"It was a boy!"

"And if you don't have it analyzed by tomorrow . . ."

"How about two desserts?"

"This better be a mock trial!"

"Don't worry, we can work it out!"

"No . . . I don't know how you did it either!"

U n d e r c l a s s m e n

To you, our friends, who are still learning,

We leave the hope that your ships be stalwart enough

To carry you as far as your imagination may lead.

Spring

1967

"Hey, now I warned you guys about that paint!"

"Okay, who glued the chair to the floor?"

"You missed so many, now I've lost my place!"

"I'm warning you Murph, you get that in my eye . . ."

"Hey, get a load of this new way of screening out freckles!"

"Fuse? What fuse?"

"Easy with the safety pin!"

"M & M's melt in your mouth, not in your hand!"

"All right, who took my ash tray?"

"Should I close it now, Mrs. Ford?"

"This is how you do it, up and bang!"

"Hold it, my fingers are slipping!"

"I regret to say it's something disgraceful, and it concerns your son Richard."

"Yesterday, this day's madness did prepare Tomorrow's sorrow, triumph, or despair. Drink, for . . ."

"Ah, Wilderness!"

"The moon is beautiful, isn't it?"

Yaaas!

"This is Carlyle's French Revolution. Isn't it a great book, though."

"You sort of forget the moon was the same way back then."

Either as players or spectators,

We began to accept many challenges –

The arts of victory, defeat and sportsmanship.

Now we chase the waves to the horizon,
And may the simple act of our strokes
Put diamonds on the sea.
